

GREENR

Global Reference on the Environment, Energy, and Natural Resources

Address scholars' growing needs

From the emerging green-collar economy to enduring questions of climate change, environmental issues are shaping the future across the United States and around the world.

For students and faculty interested in an academic approach to environmental topics, Gale delivers GREENR – an authoritative, intuitive resource that combines news, unique commentary, audio, video, primary source documents, images, conference reports, statistics and more into a Web-like experience designed to attract attention and foster participation.

Updated daily, GREENR meets student and faculty needs with:

Resources for coursework in science, international studies, business, law and politics and other disciplines

Content from Gale academic publishing partners, including Elsevier and Sage Publications

Referred case studies that illustrate environmental efforts in businesses and municipalities across the nation and around the world

Customizable homepage with personalized logins that “remember” individual users’ preferences

The best content on earth is now online

Browse Issues and Topics: Hundreds of selections are logically categorized to facilitate search success

The screenshot shows the GREENR website interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'HOME', 'ADVANCED SEARCH', 'BROWSE ISSUES AND TOPICS', 'WORLD MAP', 'SEARCH HISTORY', 'MARKED LIST', and 'MY ACCOUNT'. Below this is a 'Browse Issues and Topics' section with a grid of categories: Agriculture and Food Systems, Business in the Natural World, Economics and Trade, Law and Politics, Energy, Pollution, Environment and Ecology, and Resource Management. Each category has a small image and a list of related topics. To the right is a 'World Map' section with a world map and a search box. Below that is a 'Featured Video' section with a video thumbnail and a search box. Further down is a 'Case Studies' section with a search box and a list of case studies. At the bottom is an 'Academic Journals and News' section with a search box and a list of journal articles.

Featured Video: New videos posted weekly

Customizable World News: Users can choose sources most relevant to them

Announcing the new center of green research

GREENR (Global Reference on the Environment, Energy, and Natural Resources) brings a balanced assortment of multimedia that delivers:

The content that empowers users

- Hundreds of English-language international newspapers, magazines and refereed journals
- Recognized sources of videos, podcasts and images, updated daily
- Searchable case studies to support targeted research
- A variety of search and browse options

The technology that gets results

- Interactive maps that facilitate browsing by country or topic
- Sharing capabilities via social networking sites
- Customizable homepage to accommodate specific search needs

The portals to greater understanding

- Country portals covering more than 160 nations
- Topic/Issue portals in more than 150 categories, from animal welfare to wind energy
- Organization portals providing overviews and links to international associations

▲ Google Map technology lets students connect environmental issues with global points of view

▲ To support in-depth research, GREENR complements news and commentary with insightful case studies

▲ Video, podcasts, case studies, statistics and more lend context and perspective to today's most pressing environmental issues

